

WOMEN OF STEEL

NWR Conference 2024
Saturday 14th September

Sparking inspired discussion in Sheffield

NWR's Sheffield Fulwood and Crookes Groups welcome you to a day of scintillating conversation and company, celebrating strong women.

Three women speakers

Woman of Industry

Dame Julia Kenny, Master Cutler and leading the Wentworth Woodhouse Charity

Woman of Diplomacy

Corin Roberston, a diplomat navigating global security issues

Woman of Science

Clare Nasir, meteorologist, climate communicator, author, broadcaster

More than a spectator sport

Choose from eight assorted workshops. Foyer stalls, including book swaps and scarf swaps.

Celebrate the legacy of Mary Stott as her award finds its next inspiring recipient.

Kick off your weekend

Friday evening join the Caribbean-flavoured quiz and buffet.

Make it a memorable mini-break

On Sunday why not explore the majestic Chatsworth House or get lost in the artistic oasis of the Yorkshire Sculpture Park?

Sheffield, our vibrant host, a city forged in steel, yet blooming with green.

Nestled near the breathtaking Peak District, this cultural hub boasts more trees per square mile than any other European city, thriving universities, cutting-edge research, and a kaleidoscope of art galleries, theatres, and cinemas. Immerse yourself in its charm, guided by a local insider who will unveil the city's hidden gems.
